THEOLOGY.

BIBLIA Sacra Latina, per Fust & Schoyffer, Moguntia, 1462, a beautiful and compleat Copy, r. m. fol. 2 vols.

The Holy Bible, in the German Language, by Fust, 1462; a very large and thick Volume. N. B. The King hath one of these Bibles, though possibly of a later Edition, as that hath an Index to it, which this hath not; the Colophon is short, Joannes Fust, Civis Moguntinensis, effecit 1462; if we should not credit this Date, it is, however, probably, the first German Bible; the Type resembles that in the Durand of 1459, and of the Catholicon 1460, though of a Size between them both; it is, however, remarkable, that there should be no mention of Schoyffer's Name to it, r. m. fol.

Opus Veteris & Novi Testamenti, per Anthony Coburger. Nuremberg, 1475. This Edition seems to have escaped De Bure's notice; r. m. fol.

Palmerum Codex ad usum Chori: Mogunt. Fust et Schoyffer. 1459. fol. in Memb.
A Biblia Sacra Latina vulgate editionis. Venet.
N. Jenson. 1495. r. m. 2 v. fol. printed upon vellum with painted initials and miniatures.

The Holy Bible, by John Field. Cambridge, 1660. This Copy is printed on the largest superfine royal Paper, ruled with red Lines, and adorned with several Prints, by Hollar and others, 3 vols. fol. b. m.

The Holy Bible, by John Baskerville. Cambridge, 1763. This Copy is on the best superfine Paper, 2 vols. fol. r. m.

The Holy Bible, by John Basket. Oxford, 1717. On the largest Paper, 2 vols. fol. bl. m.

The Holy Bible, by John Taverner. London, 1539. A fine Copy, fol.

The Holy Bible, by John Daye. London, 1549. A fine Copy, fol.

The Holy Bible, by John Basket. London, 1723. fol. b. m.

La Sainte Bible, avec les Pseaumes en Musique. Amst. 1710, large duod.

The Holy Book of Common Prayer, by Baskerville. Cambridge, 1761, royal 8vo, b. m.

The Holy Book of Common Prayer; a curious Edition in duodecimo. Oxford, 1714; with two fine Paintings in Water Colours on the Backs; the one of the Resurrection, the other of the Ascension of our Saviour; most elegantly bound by Edwards, at Halifax, in Yorkshire.

The Book of Common Prayer, as it hath been reformed for the Use of the Episcopal Church in North America; printed first in Philadelphia, and re-printed in London, 1789, duod.

The Septuagint. Rotterdam, 1639. And the Greek Testament. London, 1650, 3 vols. 8vo.

Novum Testamentum juxta exemplar Millianum; Græce, Typis Baskerville, Oxford, 1763, 4to, r. m.

Biblia Sacra Polyglotta, per Cardinal Ximenes, Complutent. 1514, 6 vols. fol. b. m.

Biblia Sacra Polyglotta, studio Bryani Walton. Lond.

Lond. 1657, 6 vols. fol. lineis rubris, foliis deauratis, m.

Lexicon Heptaglotton, per Edmund. Castellum.
Lond. 1669, 2 vols. fol. lineis rubris, foliis deauratis.

A very curious Missal, supposed to be about the 16th Century, with 72 capital Illuminations, equal to those in the Missal belonging to the late Dutchess of Portland; the Letters of the Text highly enriched with Gold, on Vellum, 4to, and most curiously bound in very ancient, but magnificent binding; this belonged to Mr. West.

Another curious Missal, with 103 Illuminations, the Margins round which are exquisitely painted with Flowers, &c. the Text is still richer than the former, 4to, r. m. This belonged to Philip Carteret Webb, Esq.

Another Missal, with 90 Illuminations. This is printed, but on Vellum, with a blank Leaf left for the Painter to make his Illuminations after the Book should be printed; and a printed Text is carried round each Illumination, duod.

Another Missal, very small, with 43 Illuminations, and an Indulgence of 40 Years from Purgatory by the Pope at the End of it, for every Person who should read it through; on Vellum.

Speculum humanæ Salvationis, on wooden Blocks, about 1440, and probably by Fust and Schoyffer. This Book wants no Comment. b. m.

Speculum humanæ Salvationis, Belgicè; the same Book, supposed to have been printed at Harlem, by Coster.

Les Trois Imposteurs, Manus. This is a French Translation of a Book but little known, though much talked of; it is said to have come from Prince Eugene's Library. I bought it at Dr. Mead's Sale.

Augustinus de Civitate Dei, per Gulielmum Petro de Tarvisiis. Venice, 1475. This Book seems not to have been known to De Bure; fol. r. m.

De Commendatione Sacrae Scripturae, per Nichol de Lyra; per Sweynheim & Pannartz in Domo de Maximis. Romæ, 1471. Not noticed by De Bure, fol. r. m.

Expositio in Psalmos, per Joann. de Turre cremata Moguntia, per Peter Schoyffer, 1478, fol. r. m.

Speculum Christiani, per Willem de Mecklyn, London, 1480, 4to.

Exhortatio, &c. per Joan. Alkok, Episcopum Eliensis, with Caxton's Vignette of 74, but without the Sun, 4to.

De veritate Religionis Christianae, per Hug. Grotium, Hag. Comit. 1732, duod.

Hist. Sanc. Joannis Evangelistæ, & ejus Visiones, on wooden Blocks, and probably done about the Time of the Speculum Hum. Salvat. fol. r. m.

Lucii Cari Lactantii Opera, in Monasteria Sublacensi, 1465, fol. r. m.

S. Aurelii Augustini de Civitate Dei, Lib. 22, in Monasterio Sublacensi, 1467, fol. r. m.
